

GREEN COUNTY PLANS TO BUILD NEW HOME

Action Taken By Supervisors as a Result of Demand By State Board of Control.

MONROE, Wis., Nov. 24.—By a close vote of 14 to 12 the Green county board of supervisors has appropriated $10,000 for the erection of a new home on the county farm. The action comes as a result of the state board of control demanding that such action be taken, the present home being inadequate to meet the demands. The appropriation has been spread over four years, making an annual tax of $2,500. By an overwhelming vote the board turned down the efforts of the city council to cooperate with it in the erection of a new system of street lights, by placing a number around the court house square and maintaining the same. However, Mayor John C. Futer has been successful in getting the members of the board to agree on the question before the end of the present session, and he will modify the request, asking only that the city and county share the expense of maintaining the same.

They let you know you've been smoking—and yet they're MILD

In other words, Chesterfield Cigarettes are MILD—and yet they satisfy. This is something totally new to cigarettes. It goes further than pleasing your taste—satisfy does for your smoking what a juicy slice of hot roast beef does for your appetite.

Chesterfields satisfy—they let you know you've been smoking.

But they're MILD, too—Chesterfields are!

If you want this new cigarette delight (satisfy, yet mild) you've got to get Chesterfields, because no cigarette maker can copy the Chesterfield blend. This blend is an entirely new combination of tobaccos and the biggest discovery in cigarette blending in 20 years.

A year ago she sought medical attention at the Mayo Bros. hospital in Rochester, returning home with very little encouragement for a permanent recovery, although assuring her she might be better at times, as she was, until a few months ago when she was taken to the bed, remaining there with the best of care and medical assistance till God called her spirit from the earthly sorrows and trials of this world. It was one of the largest funeral processions that ever wended its way to the church cemetery. The church was thronged to its utmost, showing in what high esteem she was held by her many friends and neighbors. The floral offerings were many and beautiful. She will be sadly missed by her husband and children as well as by her many friends who will miss her pleasant smiles and gentle ways.

Hoping for the Best.
A Chicago comic and art critic who is suing for divorce makes the prediction that "fifty years hence the men of this country and the world will have to arise and band themselves together to maintain their own rights." We trust that they will attack no-made prime minister, blow up no railway stations, and respect monuments and art collections.—New York Sun.

Caused Embarrassment.
One morning when Esther's mother attempted to wish her daughter's face the child burst into tears. When asked what the trouble was, she replied: "Oh, mamma, I don't want you to wash my face and hands because every morning in kindergarten when my teacher asks if all the children washed their faces and hands I have to say no!"

Just a Suggestion.

OUTLOOK IS DARK FOR BADGER ELEVEN

With Captain Meyers on Sick List and Both Tackles Out of Game, Chances to Beat Illinois Seem Slim.

(Special to the Gazette.)
Madison, Wis., Nov. 24.—Dr. Withington is experiencing plenty of difficulties in preparing his team for the game with Illinois on Saturday at Camp Randall. In addition to injuries to Captain Meyers, Pitzer and Koch, the coach has had trouble with Edler and Olsen in regard to their cutting the practice drill. On Monday afternoon, the first practice after the injuries, the two backfield men called to appear, with the result that Dr. Withington took their suits from them. On the following morning, a long article appeared in the Daily Capital concerning the action of the two men and speaking of school spirit. Since the real cause of the absence of the men from practice has been found, Dr. Withington has allowed them to return to the squad and they will play in the final game of the year.

With the backfield intact, Edler, Simpson, Krenz, Herg and Taylor, the Badger coach has hopes of winning can move game this year. Illinois has a strong line, but are weak in the backfield, with the exception of Macomber. Pitzer and Koch, tackles are injured to such an extent that Dr. Withington will be unable to use them. They have been playing regular all season and the line will be weakened by their absence. Krenz, Herg and Taylor will play in their positions. Graper and Gunderson will start at guards with Carpenter at center.

With Captain Meyers on the sick list his place will be taken by Cramer or Guernsey. Both men have had experience in the games so far this year, but the absence of the Badger captain will handicap Wisconsin materially. Kelly will take care of the other end of the line.

Many are predicting that Dr. Withington will replace Taylor at quarterback with McCrory in the practice so far this week McCrory has been doing most of the directing. Taylor during the past two or three games has not directed the team to the satisfaction of the coach, so a change is expected. With McCrory at quarterback Dr. Withington expects to start with Kelly at fullback and Simpson and Olsen at halves. The seat sale for the game has been the lowest in years. The athletic department, in order to stimulate sales to students, extended the mail order limit until Thursday so that all who desired seats would have a chance to secure them early. If the weather improves many people from around the state are expected to see Wisconsin in their final game of the year. The defeat at the hands of Minnesota by such a large score and the fact that Wisconsin has no chance of finishing near the head of the list in the conference standings is given as the reason for lack of interest.

BADGER SPRINTER HURT DIMS CHANCES TO WIN IN CROSS COUNTRY RUN

(Special to the Gazette.)
Madison, Wis., Nov. 24.—Wisconsin's chances of winning the western conference cross-country run to be held at Purdue on Saturday, were dimmed to a great extent when Arlie Schardt, captain of the Badger team, fell while running on the track course at Camp Randall, injuring his leg. The injury will keep him out of the race, and he was hoped to lead the field at the finish the chances for Wisconsin have been considerably diminished.

BIG FOOTBALL BANQUET ARRANGED AT MADISON

(Special to the Gazette.)
Madison, Wis., Nov. 24.—The first annual football banquet for the students and the football team of the University of Wisconsin will be held in the gymnasium on Saturday evening. Tickets have been sold to one thousand students for the event. Arlie Muck is chairman of the committee in charge and expects the affair to be a great success in its first appearance among the activities of the Badger school.

NEWS NOTES—MOVIELAND

69 DAISY DEAN

"Nanette of the Wilds" is announced as the next release featuring Pauline Frederick. The story for this picture and this popular dramatist and actor assumes the leading male role opposite Miss Frederick. The locale is the Canadian northwest. "Nanette of the Wilds" tells the story of the daughter of a leader of a band of smugglers who has been taught to certain fierce hatred for the members of the northwest mounted police. Pierre a notorious law-breaker friend of Nanette's father kills a member of the force and Nanette shields him. Then enters O'Brien the cleverest member of the northwest mounted police, who is put on the door of Nanette's cabin. After this Nanette learns that the true reason for Pierre's crime was not heroic at all and gradually her heart softens towards the members of the force in general and O'Brien in particular.

Pauline Frederick.

MISS YOUNG UNLIKE LILY OF THE FIELD

A young actress has the idea that Clara Kimball Young spends most of her time when not working flying around amusing herself taking a deep breath and let another idea sift through. With all New York at its midnight best going to theaters and cabarets, this favorite of the shadow stage is tumbling into bed at midnight and just before dawn. Here's her usual daily program:

Rises at 7:30 and breakfasts at 8, dictating between mouthfuls.

9 a. m.—Arrives at her studio, where she dresses. While waiting to be called she consults with dress-makers, directors, etc.

9:30—Begins work steadily, making frequent changes of costume.

1 p. m.—Lunches.

2:30 to 5—Continues work.

5 p. m.—Motors to town and visits milliners and modistes before the stores close.

6:30—Visits various theaters where "The Common Law" is being shown and delights her audience.

8:30—Returns home, when not visiting the theaters, slips into a negligee and reads scenarios until bedtime.

Sounds terrible, doesn't it? Really, though, you know, Miss Young is just the people who are busy all the time.

HOLMES IS DOMESTIC

Stuart Holmes, movie villain, whose tastes are domestic, spent an hour in a kitchen wiping dishes, and announced immediately thereafter that he had discovered a tablecloth unspotted through a dinner.

"Spread the cloth on the dining room table," he advised, "and serve the dinner in the kitchen."

There was considerable excitement in a fashionable boarding school just outside of New York the other day when two big motor cars filled with painted humanity and camera tripods, drew up on the campus and the occupants proceeded to stage several scenes before the camera.

It was Marguerite Clark, Director J. Searle Dawley and the members of the "Miss George Washington" company on with the "Flight scene."

STAR MEDAL WINNERS IN LENGTHY TOURNAMENT, 42

Sport Snap Shots

MORRIS MILLER

Professional football has come back with a vengeance in the middle west, for years the teams were only of mediocre caliber, but judging by the number of stars playing with Cleveland, Canton, Massillon, Columbus Panhandlers and Buffalo, the national football game is back where it was ten years ago, when Canton and Massillon collected the greatest all-star teams in the history of the game.

Jim Thorpe is running the Canton team, and has a backfield so strong that King of Harvard, an all-American back, and Julian, the Michigan Aggie, are outclassed. Gies, a star from an all-American quarterback, is piloting the team, with Thorpe and Wilkinson of Syracuse at the half-back positions, and Mac of the Indiana team at fullback. This probably is the greatest all-around backfield ever collected. In the line Thorpe has Soucy of Harvard, Garlow of the Indians, Abel of Colgate and sure play Wisconsin who were all-American forwards, and several lesser lights. The Canton team is training faithfully and the men are in as good condition as they were in the college which is a rare thing in professional football. If the players do the right thing the game should flourish, as the public always is willing to pay for good football.

The showing of the American five-man track and field team in the recent events held throughout Scandinavia demonstrated that the United States athlete is still able to compete successfully against the leading performers of Europe. During the week tests abroad the team selected by the Amateur Athletic Union took part in seven meets, entering one or more men in forty-nine events. Without a single exception the American athletes finished among the first three.

Fred Murray of the Olympic Club of San Francisco took part in four events including hurdles, sprints, jumps and shot put, in addition to running on the relay team, and his record shows that he won three firsts, six seconds and three thirds. Joe Lewis of the Chicago A. A. specialized in the sprints and jumps, winning five firsts, one second and one third in seven starts. Robert Simpson of the Missouri team competed eleven pany preparing a new subject.

Glady's Hulette, star, accepts her name on the last syllable like "You Bet!" Doris Grey pronounces her name as if it were spelled Gray. Remarkable, isn't it?

KID BROAD GETS REALISTIC

In the studios the other day "Kid" Broad, former featherweight celebrity, was going through a boxing scene with Andy Thompson a boxing scene in which Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne are the stars.

"You've got to get more action into this," said Cabanne. "Now, Andy, you taunt the kid just like John L. Sullivan used to do. You swear at the kid and keep slapping your thigh with one hand and yelling, 'Come on, you mucker. Come on, you coward. Come on and fight.'"

Andy did. He yelled as if he meant it, and he kept creeping up toward Broad, not observing the wicked gleam in the former fighter's eye.

"You're a mut," yelled Andy. "Why don't you fight? Feather-weight was a good name for you. Then the kid said, 'Cut out the kid's left and down toppled Andy. When he came back from "Dreamland" Broad was leaning over him, with tears in his eyes.

"Honest, I didn't mean it, Andy," he said. "You talked like the fight was on the square and I forgot where I was and my left ran away from me."

"No more of this realistic stuff," said Andy, who refused to be "Miss George Washington" come on with the "Flight scene."

times in the hurdles, sprints and broad jumps, and was first four times, second four times and third three times. Ted Meredith, formerly of the University of Pennsylvania, started in seven middle-distance races, winning two, being second in three and third in two.

Ward of the Chicago A. A. started four times and wound up with a record of two firsts, one second and one third. The relay team, consisting of Leonis, Murray, Simpson and Ward, won every one of the seven races in which it competed.

Francis Moran is poised for a spring at the frontispiece of Carl Morris, or any other batter of the dreadnought class, but none of the promoters is taking any feverish interest in it. Moran no longer is the drawing card of six or eight months ago. That flivver showing against Jack Dillon sort of "cooked" him. The Pittsburgher, however, hasn't forgotten the lesson that Francis taught him. He isn't in strict training now, but he is in good condition, in such shape that a few weeks of grueling will again put him in tip-top shape. Again will Moran take any chances of being beaten by walking into a ring considerably over plus in all parts of his frame.

Charley Barrett, once described, and aptly, as a greyhound for speed, a fox for cunningness, an eel for slipperiness, a lion for courage, and a bear for strength, is still in Corleau and not playing professionally as reported, but not eligible for the team. He ranked with Eddie Mahan of Harvard as one of the greatest backs ever developed in football. Like Mahan, he could run, pass, punt and drop kick and was ever a threat when not carrying the ball.

Captain Curry, brilliant quarterback of Vanderbilt, made runs of sixty-one, forty and eleven yards against Virginia, kicked three goals from touchdown, and scored a touchdown. Left Tackle Cody of the same team made drop-kick goals from the twenty and twenty-five yard lines.

Bobby Byrne of the Phillies has gone in for bowling this fall. Handball was just a bit too dangerous for Bobby. Last winter Byrne had one of the fingers on his right hand broken while playing handball in St. Louis. The injury came near putting him out of baseball, as the finger gave him a lot of trouble last spring, and for a time, after reporting to St. Petersburg, he could scarcely hold a bat. Bobby has joined a team of bowlers made up of baseball players who will play in a bowling league in St. Louis. The other members of the team are Ollie O'Mara, of the Brooklyn Dodgers; Ed Smyth, who led the international league in batting last season and who has been landed by the Dodgers; Max Carey, of the Pittsburgh Pirates, and George Siler of the Browns.

Mike Simmons, former Pittsburgh Pirate and later Federal, who played with Bloomington in the Three-I last season and has signed with Vernon of the Coast league for next year, plans to spend the rest of his days in California. He has bought an almond grove near Los Angeles with the money he got from the Feds.

Del Howard evidently expects to remain some time as the active head of the Oakland Coast league club. It is announced that he has signed a five-year contract to train his team at Boyes Springs, Cal. The Oaks trained there last spring, but the Oaks are not held to blame for the form they showed in the coast league race.

As a means of disposing of your real estate, the little want ads are sure winners.

NEW MYERS THEATRE

Victor Herbert, composer of "Robin Hood," "The Serenade," "The Prima Donna," "The Red Mill," "Miles Modiste" and twenty other successful comic operas, including "The Princess Pat," his latest, which comes to Myers Theatre, Sunday evening, November 26th, direct from the Davidson Theatre, Milwaukee, following long runs at the Garrick Theatre, Chicago, Cort Theatre, New York, and Park Square Theatre, Boston, tells this story of two famous musicians:

"De Pachman and Goldmark once met in front of the latter's Vienna home. Goldmark was a most estimable old chap, and as everybody knows, a writer of exceptionally brilliant and melodious music, but his one great fault was his overwhelming conceit. As De Pachman and Goldmark walked away from the composer's house, the pianist pointed backward and said:

"The modest little edifice will be signally distinguished some day after you are dead."

"Indeed?" questioned Goldmark.

"Yes," continued De Pachman, "they will decorate it with a tablet."

And what do you suppose they will say on the tablet?

"To let," replied De Pachman.

MARGARET IN LONDON TURNED TOPSY TURVY

Zepps Make London Dark and London
Makers Zepps Light—Theatres
Open But Two Nights.

Written for the Gazette by Margaret Mason.

O London's topsy turvy town
The dim lights when night
comes down,
The theatres but two nights play
And give a daily maiinee,
And most the women that you meet
Have all turned workmen in the street.

The rich walk while the poor ride out.
Ah! truly things are turned about.

London, Nov. 24.—If you are afraid to go home in the dark these days you'd better not venture out after tea time in London these days or rather nights. You feel as if you had been transported back into the medieval or even strikingly like an owl into the darky dim lighted thoroughfares.

For one am glad that most of the girls give dirty maiinees and but two night performances a week. It is far from a cozy thing after the play to be all alone in London in the dark on the outside of a taxi looking in with absolute no hope of being on the inside looking out.

The price of petrol is so high and the chauffeurs are so scarce that taxis are almost as scarce as feeling and feeling as bats owing. They whizz by deaf to your shouts and blind
to your tears.

That drivers are now known as the
"haughties" so fastidious and particular. If they size you up and like your looks even then you mustn't be too optimistic. They may not like your destination and refuse to take you after all. Indeed so near perfection to you have to be in appearance and address that it is really simpler
and sater to begin your walking right away.

There are not many women driving
taxis, yet they are running elevators, cleaning as conductors on buses, cleaning streets, working on railway yards, and in delivery wagons and working in munition factories. It is a curious thing that in all the manual strenuous and more virile work heretofore done by the men the women now excel, but they are trying to replace the men in the more seemingly more feminine arts of cooking, tailoring and hairdressing are but sorry substitutes for the sterner sex.

As a lover of sexes and classes
the war is doing wonders that vie with the horrors for a balancing result.
Women are counting into their own as the "haughties" wage earners and the "haughties" Lady and Julia O'Grady and rubbings shows in the hospitals and munition factories. The rich and poor are working side by side with the poor and lowly. The pampered girls have given up their motors so the poor wounded Tommies may ride and after the theatre they too are forced to go to the theatre. The haughties are no longer of either birth or breeding.

Yes, things are dark and strange in dark in London, but there are bright spots. For though it's Zepps that make London dark London makes Zepps. Sometimes they make Zepps light and sometimes they make Zepps dark. When word arrives that Zepps are on the way there is some zest and thrill in staying up all night and up on a roof to glimpse the big flaming red and out by the big flaming of the searchlights, that fall from the sky like a Gargantuan
sawyer set off by an intrepid young British airman.

But bringing airships out of the clouds and women filling bombs in stead of nursing bottles, and pedestrians blundering around like moles
in the Stygian streets are but commonplace.

What it comes to turning all the clocks up an hour for summer and back again an hour for the winter season then it does seem going a bit far. It's so really unsettling for social engagements, don't you know, and for the life of her Lady-ship can't remember whether her with Lord Percy is at five o'clock or six. Fate is as nothing to juggle Time.

Two men whom it took to personally adjust Big Ben's hands across the face undoubtedly felt the weight of that original aphorism the weight of which I always have on tap
in time.

GOOD FOOD SELECTION
GAUGES NOURISHMENT

By Dr. Samuel G. Dixon.

Pennsylvania Commission of Health.
We have many among us who believe themselves intelligent, and yet are starving to death. The human body represents the most complicated piece of machinery known to man.

To maintain it we must supply it with albumin found in meats, beans and some of the other vegetables. It must have starch or sugar. We must bread, potatoes and sweets. We must have fats as found in meats, nuts
and so on, and of course, preeminently in butter and good milk.

A body also demands certain salts such as iron and iodine in many of the vegetables if they are not robbed
of them by being soaked in water
before or during the process of cooking.

These constituent parts of the diet
must be intelligently proportioned.
We must urge our educators to teach children of understandable age
the science of selecting a rational combination of foodstuffs.

At present we want real all-around family physicians whom mothers can consult as to how to feed their flocks including the grown-up of the household as well as the small children.

Whitewater News

Whitewater, Nov. 24.—Paul Lude-man and Miss Mable Higgins were married at the home of Father M. E.
Downs Thursday morning at 9:45.

Both the young people are well known here having spent their lives in this vicinity. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Ludeman and has spent most of his life on the farm at Cold Spring.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Higgins and has lived here all her life. The young people went direct to Milwaukee, where if Mr. Ludeman can get employment they will remain
and make their home.

The funeral of Mrs. Luther Hadley was held yesterday from the home on Summit street and burial at Hillside. Mr. Hadley was born in Sandy Creek, Oswego county, N. Y., seventy-seven years ago. When about 10 years of age he came with his parents to Richmond, Wis., where he made his home until about 17
years ago when he moved to this city where he has since resided. He served his country during the Civil war, being a member of Co. K, 4th Wisconsin. He leaves to mourn his death, two daughters, Mrs. Hattie Magoon and Miss Lottie Hadley.
There were also two brothers, Calvin and Port Adkinson and Eugene of Mapleton, Minn.

Clyde Fero received a telegram this week offering him a position as leader of the orchestra in the new hippodrome theatre at Miami, Fla.
He will go next week and will take his mother, Mrs. P. N. Fero, with him to spend the winter there.

In the burning of the horse stalls
at the Columbia county fair grounds
at Portage last Thursday, Col. Anderson, a sorrel stallion, formerly owned by Charles Clark of this city, was killed. Many people will remember this beautiful and speedy horse.

Ed O'Brien is home from Chicago
for a few days.

A. L. Colby hurt his hand quite seriously Monday by cutting it on a piece of glass.

mother, Mrs. Sprackling and other relatives.

Mrs. R. Kinzer of Seattle, Wash., has been visiting her brother-in-law
J. E. Kinzer and family for a few days. She went to Chicago on Wednesday to visit her mother.

Henry Coes was called to Lodi, Wis., Wednesday by the death of his father. Arthur Vance was home from Chicago over Sunday.

MONROE MAN FOUND DEAD
IN CHAIR ON BACK PORCH

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Monroe, Wis., Nov. 24.—Christopher Wyss, for the past thirty-five years a resident of Monroe was found dead
Thursday sitting on his back porch,
the indications being that he had been suddenly stricken. On Tuesday morning a brother of the deceased called at the home and at that time the deceased stated his intention of walking down to the business section to make a few purchases. When his lifeless body was discovered Thursday by the brother, "clutched in his arms were packages of groceries. It is believed that he suffered an attack of heart failure. The deceased is survived by his wife, six children and three brothers. He was a native of Switzerland, being fifty-eight years of age,
and had resided here since 1881.

WILL PAY $2 FOR MILK
FOR SEVEN MONTHS' PERIOD

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Monroe, Wis., Nov. 24.—Edward Wittwer & Bro., who control a number of cheese factories in the northern part of Green county, have set a new price record for milk, contracting with patrons for the coming thirteen months at $1.50 and $2.00 per hundred pounds. The $2.00 price will be paid for the seven winter months with $1.50 per hundred weight for the remainder of the period. No test is required for the milk. The contract is unusual not only because of the high price, but also for the period which it runs. In the past the contracts at the majority of factories in Green county have been for eight months' periods.

Yes! Fresh Oysters in This New Germ-Proof Package From the Sea to Your Table, Sealed Air-Tight

Out of this TRUPAKT vending refrigerator we are daily delivering to our customers these ice-cold, sea-sealed packages of meaty, juicy oysters.

These are TRUPAKT Oysters—freshly gathered from the finest seashore beds, transferred from Nature's pearly-white oyster shells into these ivory-white non-metal containers, and brought to us in fast refrigerator trains. Each package is sealed air-tight when you get it, just as it left the seashore.

TRUPAKT No-Bulk OYSTERS OVERNIGHT SHIPMENTS—ALWAYS FRESH AND PURE

Nowadays the state and federal authorities supervise oyster beds. At the seashore, oysters are pure and wholesome. The methods of shipping and selling in bulk are what impair oysters.

Now comes the TRUPAKT system that avoids the objections found in bulk-shipped oysters which are opened in the stores and stand in metal cans.

TRUPAKT Oysters are always sealed up in this germ-proof package.

No hands can touch them. No metal can contaminate them. No light can deteriorate them. No water can soak them and leave them flat and tasteless.

Farewell to Bulk-Shipped Oysters

The TRUPAKT system keeps oysters firm and wholesome. It retains their natural juice and brings them to your table with the smack of the ocean in their original frosty freshness.

Millions of people eat oysters and millions of others will learn to love them now that the TRUPAKT system gives everyone a way to tell pure oysters with the live sea flavor.

TRUPAKT, Inc., General Sales Office, MILWAUKEE

Oyster Packing Rooms at the Beds on the Sea Coast

NOTE: Trupakt are the only oysters that are always shipped exclusively by fast express. Practically all other oysters are shipped by slow freight.

By receiving Trupakt oysters exclusively by fast express we are able to get them to you from six to ten days fresher than any other oysters you can buy in this territory.

Practically all bulk shipped oysters contain 20 to 35 per cent un-known hydrant water, added after the oysters are received at interior points; hence bulk shipped oysters are not as cheap as they

The TRUPAKT system crowns with final success the many-year quest of experts for a hygienic method. It results from a great invention—the No-Metal Napacan.

No Other Oysters in Napacans

This new container—the No-Metal Napacan—is made of stout paper, pressed layer on layer, and impregnated with paraffin. That seals all the pores and makes the Napacan water-proof and air-tight. This patented process, done under super-heat, also makes this ingenious container sterile. It contains no metal to rust or corrode from contact with the oysters.

The TRUPAKT Company has the exclusive rights to use the No-Metal Napacan for oysters.

If you're fond of oysters, order from stores that sell TRUPAKT, and avoid bulk-shipped oysters that are dipped out into open-mouthed paper pails, often laden with dust.

If you've never eaten fresh oysters at the seashore, get a trial package—the natural flavor of TRUPAKTS will unfold a new table treat. Eaten cooked or raw, there is no finer dish from Nature's larder.

Count the noses 'round your table and order accordingly; small family size, 15c a package; average family size, 30c.

seem when you consider that you are paying at the rate of $2.00 per gallon for the hydrant water they contain.

No water is added to Trupakt oysters. They are packed solid meat, and are sealed right at the oyster beds in the same individual, sterile package you open in your kitchen. The package which sells for 30c contains from 30 to 33 oysters—enough for a family of from four to five people.

They are just as cheap or cheaper than bulk shipped oysters sold at less price per so-called pint.

Overnight shipments arriving daily at the following stores:

Janesville Tea Co., 20 S. River St. John H. Jones, 36 S. Main.

ROUMANIAN QUEEN FEEDS WOUNDED SOLDIER IN PALACE AT BUCHAREST

Queen Marie as a hospital nurse.

If a wounded soldier could be considered lucky that distinction would be thrust on this man who is being waited on by Queen Marie of Roumania in the royal palace at Bucharest, which has been turned into a hospital. In her work as a nurse in the palace the queen is assisted by her two daughters, Princesses Marie and Elizabeth. She is shown cutting the food for one of the sufferers.

FLEET MOBILIZATION FOR DECEMBER

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 24.—Lean greyhounds of the Atlantic fleet, swift destroyers and bobbing government coastal cutters—vessels of every kind and character will assemble in Hampton Roads the second week of December on the occasion of the eighth annual convention of the Southern Commercial Congress, at Norfolk, Va. The gathering will present one of the most impressive grand ensembles of naval vessels since the mobilization of the American fleet for the trip around the world. The entire Atlantic fleet has been ordered mobilized, and the commanders by Secretary Daniels, and the departments of commerce and labor have given similar orders for all vessels of their departments.

The officers and men of the fleet, with the Virginia national guard, will participate in a military parade Sunday, preceding the formal opening of the congress. The fleet, together with all visiting ships, will pass in a grand naval review earlier in the day.

President Wilson has been requested to address the congress on Monday morning. The Secretary of State Lansing will speak Monday.

BRANCH LABORATORY PLAN BEING URGED TO PROMOTE HEALTH

State Health Board Advocates Co-operative Laboratories Throughout State to Study Disease.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 24.—The plan of the state board of health in offering a state co-operative laboratory of hygiene to any city in the state which is willing to co-operate was explained before the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association here today by Dr. W. D. Stovall, Madison, director of the state laboratory of hygiene, who addressed the annual convention on "The Need of Co-operative Laboratories."

In most states, said Dr. Stovall, one state laboratory, usually located at the capital, attempts to give service to all the physicians and health officers in the state for the diagnosis and control of contagious and infectious diseases. "The disadvantage of one central laboratory is obvious for many reasons," he said, "but principally because it is always far removed from a large percentage of the physicians in the state, in which case it takes the specimens which are sent to the laboratory for diagnosis, anywhere from twelve to twenty-four hours to reach the laboratory when the mail service is good, and longer if it is bad. It then takes several hours, from twelve to sixteen, for the culture to incubate or for other work to be done. The means of diagnosis is of no benefit to the patient in the way of making an early diagnosis and instituting treatment, nor to the physician in clearing up his diagnosis early in the progress of the disease. In other words, it is not a diagnosis as the physician thinks of diagnosis."

These central laboratories then become purely public health laboratories, in that they serve the purpose of holding the patients in quarantine until they are free of disease germs, and thereby the community is protected. This is worthy enough, but there should be more adequate laboratory service in the state in order that the physician may receive the benefit. The community will also benefit in such an arrangement in that the early diagnosis of the disease makes the further spread of it impossible.

Another disadvantage of having only one central laboratory, declared Dr. Stovall, is the limited number of diagnoses it can make. By having what is now proposed by the state—co-operative laboratories—the physician, he said, may benefit by having adequate laboratory service at hand; the patient is benefited in that the laboratory service may be had quickly, and the community is protected because the disease may be diagnosed early. The plan proposed permits every city in the state to have a laboratory on the co-operative plan; that is, the city shall appropriate a certain amount for its support of the laboratory. The state board of health will contribute a fund to the laboratory sufficient to pay for the expenses and services of a man to do the work that the city in this way the rural physicians would also receive a benefit not otherwise obtainable.

"There is another great advantage in having a number of co-operative laboratories over the state," concluded Dr. Stovall, "and that is that it will relieve the state or central laboratory of a large part of the routine work and will therefore leave the members of the staff of the central laboratory, free to devote their whole time, or most of it, to research work along public health lines. In other words, the state would be establishing a department for increased epidemiologic investigation in the state, and at the same time have a system of laboratories which will take care of the routine diagnoses."

Moth Killer.

If moths get into a closet, saturate a cloth 12 inches square with formaldehyde; place cloth in the closet and close up tightly for 12 hours. The same plan may be used in chests, trunks, or boxes where clothing is stored. The fumes will kill moths as well as their eggs.

WOMAN WAR WORKERS IN ENGLAND TOTAL GROWS LARGER DAILY

Over Three Million Now Employed—Is Not Working Army in Skirts

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

London, Nov. 24.—The saying that woman's place is in the home has little application in war time. There are now in the British Isles 3,215,000 women employed outside their own homes. It is generally recognized that their rally to work in the national interest is going to make it difficult for parliament to refuse the demand for suffrage which will be renewed when hostilities end.

During the first two years of war the increase of women workers, exclusive of partly feminine occupations, was 866,000. Of these 768,000 directly replaced male labor. In other words more than three-quarters of a million women left their homes to release that number of men for military service. In most cases the women went into the munition camps, where a considerable number of them have given up their lives in "doing their bit."

There seems to be no limit to the class of work women can do. At first it seemed strange to see girl conductors on the buses, girl window cleaners, van drivers and messengers. But as the war progressed the field broadened and now even in building, mining and quarrying, scores of women are employed. The metal trades also have claimed their share of the new industrial army. It must be understood that this is not an army of skirts. As a matter of fact skirts are worn for the most part only in those occupations which bring women in touch with the public. In most of the factories and shops, the breweries and the railway yards, jumpers and regulation overalls are the approved costume. The bus and tram conductors, or "conductresses," are jaunty in neat blue tunics and skirts reaching just below the knees—low enough to overlap close fitting black leather puttees. There is seldom a glimpse of stocking. The bus companies issued an order recently that no silk hosiery should be worn.

It is stated that probably 100,000 of the women "war workers" have been recruited from those formerly engaged in purely feminine occupations—domestic science, milliners, dressmakers, etc. The servant problem is becoming more and more acute, for the demand for munition workers is increasing day by day, and the wages offered are far beyond the dreams of avarice to a majority of the English domestics.

The number of women employed in railway work has increased more than 200 per cent. Ordinarily the only railway posts open to women were clerks, ships and carriage cleaning tasks. Now there are women ticket collectors, porters, engine cleaners and work shop laborers. In Glasgow and some other cities women are being tried out as tram drivers or motorwomen.

Interesting statistics regarding woman's part in war work have been collected by the employment bureau of the board of trade. The number of women recruited to industrial occupations between July, 1914, and July, 1916, was 362,000. Of this number, 31,000 directly replaced men in commercial occupations. The increase in the number of women workers was 193,000, while the number of women replacing men in this class was 201,000. This apparent discrepancy is accounted for by the transfer of women from the feminine side to the male side of the establishments. The increase in women clerks amounts to only 45,000, all of whom, however, have replaced men.

The increase of women workers in hotels and places of entertainment is only 19,000, yet the number of men replaced in these establishments is 31,000, many of the old female employees now doing the work of men.

There has been much discussion lately as to whether the city woman is a success on the farm and the point is far from being settled. Nevertheless 16,000 more women are working steadily at agriculture today than in July, 1914. In 1914 there were only 2,000 women employed in government arsenals and dockyards. Now there are 10,000. The English breweries formerly employed 8,000 women. Now they have 18,000. And so it goes through all the industries.

After a while the industrial post-war problems are going to offer much food for reflection and, to be amply solved, will require an intellectual skill of direction and "square deal" equal to the best thought and energy put forward in the war itself.

GATHER CHRISTMAS GIFTS FOR FRENCH SOLDIERS

New York, Nov. 24.—Christmas gifts for the French soldiers, who "somewhere in France" are helping hold the long, cold fighting line, will be gathered tonight at the ball "La Paquet du Soldat" at the Waldorf Astoria. Mrs. Eugene M. Knickerbocker, president of the society, has received a list of soldiers who are without friends to send them Christmas gifts. These will be the first to receive gifts from the society. Tobacco and cigarettes will form a fair share of the consignment. Proceeds of the ball will go to the gift fund.

Much Iron in New Zealand.

Great deposits of iron exist in New Zealand, the iron sand at Taranaki, near New Plymouth, being particularly noted. There attempts were made as early as 1848 to produce pigiron in commercial quantities, but none met with success until recently, when a plant constructed upon advanced ideas turned out a few tons of excellent quality.

THE INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON.

Fourth Quarter, Lesson IX, Romans
XII, 1-8, November 25.

A LIVING SACRIFICE.

In the Epistle to the Romans, Paul built a pyramid broader, loftier, more enduring than that of Cheops. Its base rests upon the tried stone, the sure foundation laid in Zion—the sacrifice and mediation of Jesus Christ.

Out of the horrible pit, the mire and clay of human depravity so graphically depicted, Paul's pyramid rises in strong strata. Justification, peace, access, reconciliation, righteousness, are its successive courses. Between these blocks of adamant logic the blade of an unfriendly criticism can not be forced, so fitly are they framed together.

St. Paul comes now to put the apex to his pyramid in certain practical precepts and exhortations.

There is a constant in the priesthood through the Patriarchal, Mosaic, and Christian dispensations. God has never been without priests on earth. Only under the latest and best order the priesthood is spiritual. Each man is his own priest, too. To the function of his holy office, St. Paul calls the believer as with the note of a silver trumpet.

"Therefore!"
(significant) in view of the whole argument and as its logical conclusion
the only rational course for the believer is the perpetual and entire dedication of himself to the service of God. The overmastering obligation is the mercy of God in the provisions of the atonement. "To present" is the very technique of the Mosaic ritual, signifying the placing of the victim before the altar in readiness for acceptance and use. "Your bodies"; a figure of speech like the cup for what it contains; not the body only, but it with its more valuable contents—mind, soul, and spirit.

The sacrifice of the spiritual priest is a living one. This is antithetical to the sacrifice of the old dispensation, which was first killed and then offered. God has no further use for dead sacrifices. This would rule out all acts of penance, fasting, flagellation etc., calculated to reduce bodily strength. It would exclude the Puritanic as well as other ideas of devotion. God wants our vim and vigor. He can use the strength, the beauty, and the power of the body.

The believer's sacrifice is not intrinsically holy. It is the altar on which it is offered that sanctifies the gift. Resting by faith upon the atonement in Christ, and perfumed
with his infinite merit, the believer who unreservedly gives himself to God for service is counted holy and is acceptable.

An old
preacher talks quaintly of the "ugly-ness and disgustiveness of worldly fashions in God's sight. Paul op-treats the believer not to assume the form, the manner of life of his age, though in Rome he is not to do as Romans do. This is the ideal nonconformity. The Christian is to be metamorphosed; and that, too, not after some worldly model, or by some external force. The renewed conscience sits perpetually as a high and inward court of appeal to which the believer carries every doubtful question, and thus determines the will of God.

THE TEACHER'S LANTERN.

St. Paul pushes forward in his exhortation but re-enforces himself on the way by an appeal to the authority of his apostolic office so graciously conferred upon him. His first caution is against spiritual pride, accompanied by a gentle call to humility. Humility is the fundamental law of reasonable service in the Church.

What follows is concerning the proper conduct of Christians toward the community of brothers for the establishment of a harmonious Church-life; the conditions of a healthy Church-life are outlined. There are allusions here to orders, offices, and usages; but it would be just as impossible to construct a Church polity from this paragraph as it is from the others in which these matters are named. As has been well said, the portraiture is purposely in silhouette. This is sufficient to indicate that Providence intended that there should be freedom of adaptation in the external policy
of the Church.

All the gifts, varying in kind and degree,
have yet the same gracious source
and one beneficent object; namely,
the edification of the whole body of believers, of which Christ is the head.

Having this fact in mind, let the teacher teach in harmony with the faith. Let him strike no discordant note for the sake of sensation or notoriety. The one who is called to the practical work of the Church, its business side, (ministry), ought to give himself to it. The exhorter should do likewise. The "ruling elder" must apply himself with diligence.

That St. Paul is not here attempting a formal roster of Church officials is evident from the fact that in this list appear some that are evidently not "in orders"; namely the "giver" and the "shower of mercy." The former is to perform his function with singleness of motive.
The latter is to be fairly hilarious (literally) at his privilege. "Not a conventional good conduct, but that cheerfulness from heaven which in a despondent world must conquer and banish the demons of sadness."

Love, unfeignedly! Abhor, repel evil! Grieve yourself (literally) to the good. Have an inseparable attachment—a bridal affection. Be as affectionate to one another as if you were blood relatives. Be beforehand in the manifestation of respect.

In diligence, not slothful; in spirit, seething hot (literally), and in rejoicing, not in hope rejoicing; in prayer persevering. Caring for the poor, and pursuing (literally) hospitality. Blessing the persecutor is a quotation from the Sermon on the Mount, probably orally reported to Paul. Finally, laugh with the laughing, sorrow with the sorrowing.

The fundamental thought in all these exhortations is that every man is to give himself wholly to the work for which he is fitted, or to which, by the providence of God, he has been allotted, not seeking ambi-tiously for some other place or some other service."

November 25, 1916. Psalm CVII, 1-43.

THE GRACE OF GRATITUDE.

(Thanksgiving Meeting.)

Nobody can thank a natural law.

To proclaim a day of thanks to a blind order of events is preposterous.

Gratitude is only felt toward a person. Back of the abundant harvest one must see God standing. All physical benefits must be traced to him directly. So doing thanksgiving is something real and inspiring. The workman takes his pay envelope and may say, "The cashier has paid me,"
but there is no confusion in his mind.
He knows that his pay comes from the proprietor. So nature is just God's cashier. Back of the loaf on the table is the wheat, the soil, the sun, the shower, God's almighty power and God's very Person. We shall never outgrow the need of the prayer,

"Give us this day our daily bread."

And seeing back of it all the bountiful Father we will not fail to look up with a smile and utter our sincere and reverent "Thank You!"

How to Improve Feeding Hens for Eggs

Winter Feeding and Care of Farm Fowls to Get Eggs When Prices Are High
By PROF. J. G. HALPIN
Wisconsin College of Agriculture

Copyright, 1916, by Western Newspaper Union

Many poultry raisers make radical mistakes in changing their fowls from summer to winter rations. They do not appreciate the importance of maintaining the proper proportions of meat and succulent feed in the winter ration and above all of supplying these constituents to the birds immediately at the beginning of cold weather. During summer the birds catch and eat an abundance of grass, hoppers and in addition have a large supply of green food constantly available so that all their wants are satisfied. Just as soon as the weather changes, the food should be changed to succulent feed, such as alfalfa, roots and clover hay and beet scraps in the ration so that it will correspond as closely as possible to the summer feeding. The feeder should not wait until after Christmas to begin this system of feeding but should commence it as soon as the fowls are off the range.

A Hopper for Grit or Dry Mash.

Feeding a Wet Mash.

Changes in the system of feeding hens should never be abrupt, but should be very gradual, slowly introducing the birds to the variation in their ration. When a wet mash has been fed to the young fowl it is preferable to continue to feed the older birds with this variety of mash. Although a wet mash is more palatable than a dry mash, it is also more troublesome to prepare and has to be fed more carefully. There is always a danger of its becoming or freezing. A wet mash should be thoroughly mixed and allowed to swell and expand. This mash should be uniformly spread in the troughs so that each bird receives an equal allowance. Otherwise the stronger birds will gorge themselves while the weaker ones will starve.

An excellent wet mash ration consists of one part alfalfa meal, one part wheat bran, one part middlings, one part cornmeal and one part beef scraps. If possible these constituents should be moistened and mixed with skim milk and allowed to stand for several hours before feeding. Five percent of oil meal is used advantageously in this ration, due to its value as a laxative and general tonic and stimulant. The wet mash should be fed once daily, in amount never to exceed what the birds will clean up readily in ten minutes, preferably at the noon hour.

How to Feed Dry Mash.

The dry mash is not so palatable and accordingly can be fed to the hens at any time although the stock usually eat more and thrive more rapidly if allowed access to this food for three to four hours each afternoon. This gives the "underlings" plenty of chance to eat and lessens the possibility of the mature fowls stuffing themselves. The dry mash has the same composition as the wet mash the only difference being that it is fed in a dry form. Where ground oats and barley are plentiful they can be added to the dry mash with excellent results. Ground bone is an excellent constituent to use in the ration for egg production. It must be fed in moderation about one ounce per hen three times a week and then gradually increased until one ounce is supplied daily to each hen.

Several prominent poultrymen have recently attained remarkable success by using a combination of wet and dry mashes. Their system includes a noon feed of a light, well-scattered wet mash and then during the afternoon giving the birds free access to a dry

Encouragement.

"Did the doctor give you much encouragement?" asked Mrs. Dumson. "Yes, indeed," answered Mr. Dumson. "He said I would be able to whip my weight in wildcats before long." "Dear me! Where will you find the wildcats?"

Let the Want Ads do your work.

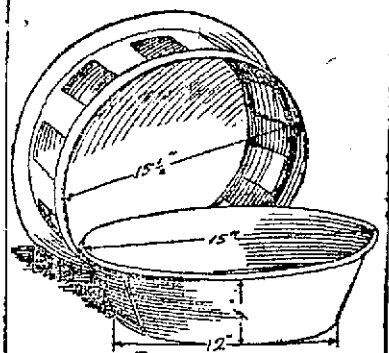

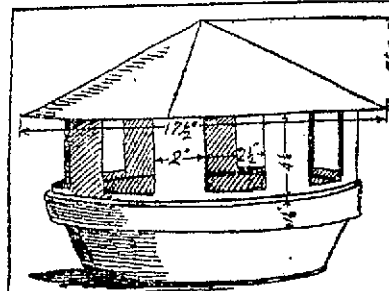

mash. The main advantage of this method is the extra labor involved. In a well-arranged house when a dry mash is fed in hoppers one man can feed 2,000 hens in about a half hour. As ordinarily fed a wet mash for 2,000 birds requires at least two hours for mixing and distributing the feed.

Roughage for Hens.

Where alfalfa meal is fed the demand for a succulent roughage is decreased. Even in this case, however, the addition of succulent clover or alfalfa hay is beneficial. Root crops play an important role in the diet of poultry. Mangels may be fed entire once a day in troughs. Cabbages are best fed by suspending them by cords to keep them clean. An additional advantage is obtained here through the extra exercise necessary for the fowl to secure the feed. Where available sprouted oats can be fed. Carrots in small amounts are very palatable and tempting to the fowl. Clover chaff can be fed wet or dry and is a very economical egg producer. Begin to feed the green stuff and mangels as early in the autumn as possible.

Clover Good for Poultry.

Steaming clover hay increases its palatability greatly. If free from long fiber, clover is an excellent feed to mix with bran, table scraps, or with a regular mash. A convenient way of handling the poultry flock is to thoroughly bed down the house with straw in the fall and then to add a forkful of clover or alfalfa hay every day until the litter begins to get dirty. The house should then be cleaned, the straw replaced by clean litter, and the daily forkful of clover or alfalfa continued. The importance of litter cannot be overestimated as a means of compelling the birds to exercise in obtaining their food. A generous allowance of corn mixed with the litter works out excellently for winter feed.

Two Views of a Simple Drinking Vessel for the Small Hen House.

ing. Corn may be fed either shelled or on the ear—broken into small pieces.

It is of great importance that a little grain be left in the litter overnight so that the hens have something to eat immediately after leaving their perches in the early morning. This accounts for the generous allowance of grain which is absolutely necessary in the litter. If no grain is left in the litter the birds should receive their first feed by daylight for best returns. A very detrimental practice on the general farm is to finish all the morning chores before feeding the poultry. The hens as a result remain on their perches too long, so no incentive urges them to get down and exercise. This common mistake is one of the fundamental errors which results in a diminished egg production.

Grit for the flock should be furnished by putting a load of gravel in the house each year. Oyster shell should also be constantly accessible for the flock. It may be placed in an inexpensive hopper where the birds can easily reach it. Charcoal is another article of indispensable value around the poultry house. Clean, pure water in sanitary dishes should always be available for the fowls.

Feed a Generous Ration. An essential factor in poultry feeding is to furnish a liberal, correctly balanced, fattening and growing ration. To merely supply the flock with a maintenance ration is not sufficient. Besides maintaining bodily vigor and health the hen must produce eggs and on this account requires an amount of feed in excess of that required for mere maintenance. Where a well balanced ration is supplied in abundance, and where the flock have plenty of exercise, the birds will not become overfat, but will maintain good thrift and will produce a quantity of good quality eggs.

Evansville News

Evansville, Nov. 24. — Brother Knight Edward C. Gottry of Milwaukee, formerly of Greensburg, and well known in this city, delivered a stirring address last evening at the banquet of the Knights of Pythias lodge. Mr. Gottry is grand and is one of the strongest speakers in the state. Over a hundred Pythians and sisters and wives attended the banquet, which was served by the losing team. The menu consisted of venison, duck, rabbit and squirrel. The banquet and hunt proved to be one of the biggest successes that the local lodge has staged in some time.

This evening the young people of the Methodist church will entertain with a home talent program. The chief feature of the entertainment will be the presentation of a farce, entitled "Some District School." The regular exercises of the school will be concluded by the following program: Opening song, Skule; Mrs. Honesuckle, a visitor, enters and makes a speech; recitation, Aba Smith; recitation, Ben Harrison; solo, "Ben Bolt," Hanna Dickson; recitation, Grover Cleveland; recitation, Sarah Jane Plunkett; recitation, Prudence Plunkett; essay, Julia Weatherbloom; recitation, Ezek Pettibone; recitation, Patie Peterkin; scholar's test, teacher; committee-man's speech; spelling school.

Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Hansen of this city were recent Brooklyn visitors. Milo Gillies and Hugh Hynes were Janesville visitors on Wednesday evening. Miss Blanche Tibbets spent yesterday in Madison. E. C. Gottry of Milwaukee was entertained last evening at the A. E. Harte home. Mrs. Harry Milligan went to De Kalb, Ill., yesterday, where she will visit with friends. The Help a Bit club met yesterday afternoon with Mrs. Frank Ballard. The Columbia Chapter No. 23 of E. S. will hold a picnic supper at the Masonic hall Monday evening, November 27. ## A Medical Book Free

By Dr. N. A. Goddard

Modern Methods of treating Chronic Diseases Without Operation, has just come from the pen of Dr. N. A. Goddard, the Milwaukee Specialist and is one of the most interesting as well as instructive little books the doctor has ever written.

If you are a sufferer from Appendicitis, Rupture, Gall Stones, Colic, Gout or Chronic diseases of a private nature, you should avail yourself of his offer to send you this valuable little book free simply for the asking. A postal will bring it to you, in a plain wrapper. Many so-called surgical cases, have been proven to be curable by medical treatment, more safely and more easily and cheaply by modern medical methods than was believed possible a few years ago. After you have read this little book, you can consult Dr. Goddard on his monthly visits to Janesville, free of charge and have the satisfaction of knowing that you have secured the expert opinion of a reputable specialist in these matters. If you have been advised to submit to an operation, surely do not fail to consult him before undergoing such an operation. His advice may save you many weeks of suffering, loss of time and expense, possibly your life. Dr. Goddard will be at the Grand Hotel, Janesville, Friday, December 1, and he makes no charges for a friendly visit. Hours 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. Address DR. GODDARD, 121 Wisconsin St., Milwaukee, Wis.

Congregational Church. The usual services at our church next Sunday morning. Worship at 10:30 a. m. Evening worship at 7 o'clock Sunday school at noon.

We certainly appreciated the fine service of last Sunday. The large attendance and the splendid music made it an inspiring service. We hope to have many more such during this winter. Remember the union Thanksgiving services at the Methodist church, Thanksgiving morning. Malcolm P. Miller, pastor.

St. John's Church. The usual Sunday services will be held at this church.

Baptist Church. William P. Pearce, minister. Services next Sunday at the usual hours. In keeping with the national custom the pastor will preach a Thanksgiving sermon, entitled: "Thankfulness for the Past, Confidence for the Future, The Blessings and Perils of This Country." Special music, Anthem: "The Lord is Loving Unto Every Man."—Garrett.

The Sunday school at 11:45. W. Gillies, superintendent. There are classes for all ages. The Christian Endeavor society next Sunday will meet from 4 to 5 o'clock, instead of at 4:45. Subject of discussion: "The Grace of Gratitude." Leader, Miss Isabelle Greenwood.

Evening worship at 7:30. We rejoice in the interest taken in the evening service. The subject of the evening's discourse is biblically seasonal: "The Advice of Jesus to Remember the Other Man's Wife." She was cultured, rich and a society woman. But she was a wife with a question mark. She was N. G.

Our Bible study and discussion will be: "The Civic Strife in Every Christian, Who is a Dual Being." (Rom. 7:14-25). Do not forget the Thanksgiving service at the M. E. church on Thanksgiving morning. Rev. Miller preaches, the sermon. All of our church folks and town folks should be there. Let every one bring a Thanksgiving offering for the poor. The pastor is trying to formulate plans for a special meeting either in December or January, doubtless the latter month.

CLEVELAND PIONEERS IN UNIQUE OPERA SCHEME

Cleveland, Nov. 24.—Preparations are being completed today for the opening Monday in Cleveland of a unique experiment in grand opera Monday night. Cleveland will host to the first presentation by the Cleveland Grand Opera company, Wednesday, Thursday in Cincinnati and Saturday in Detroit. Such will be the schedule for each of the six weeks of the proposed season. If the patronage warrants the season will be extended. If successful, careful observers say it will be followed by similar organizations in many groups of cities, to small in music patrons to have a company of their own or to be visited by the New York or Chicago company.

GRIDIRON HONORS OF THE BIG NINE DECIDED TOMORROW

Only Tie Game Between Northwestern and Ohio State Will Further Complicate Matters.

Football in the Western Conference will close for 1916 tomorrow with the championship battle between Northwestern and Ohio State at Columbus, O., topping off the schedule. Only a tie score can prevent the season's gridiron honors of the "Big Nine" from being decided, as both teams have gone through the season undefeated.

Minnesota will clash with Chicago, and Illinois will oppose Wisconsin in the remaining "big" games of tomorrow's schedule. These games, usually the deciding factors of the conference championship, are exciting almost as much interest as the title affair between Northwestern and Ohio State.

Minnesota, which was unexpectedly defeated by Illinois, still is regarded by many close followers of western football as the most powerful eleven in the conference. But determined to force Minnesota to play all the football it knows Chicago will use the toughest conference opponent in putting up the same kind of a fight it did in its victory over Illinois a week ago. If perfect, condition points critics believe it will be a close battle as the Maroons came out of the Illinois game without injury and are not discouraged over the big score Minnesota rolled up against Wisconsin last Saturday.

Forward passes probably will be an important factor in the battle, for both teams have made good gains via the aerial route in recent games. Vision and action of the offense are considered especially good performers in handling passes. Joe Sordani, the plunging full back of the Minnesota squad, expected to get into the contest as he has sufficiently recovered from recent injuries.

There has been a wild scramble for tickets and there is every indication that the battle will be witnessed by the largest crowd that has poured into Stagg Field this season.

The Wisconsin-Illinois tilt is expected to be a stubbornly fought as both squads are anxious to wipe out the defeats of last Saturday. The Badgers were somewhat crushed by the 54 to 0 facing given them by Minnesota, but have hopes of a triumph over Illinois, which left before Chicago, or at least of holding the tilt to an almost even score.

Indiana and Purdue, tail-enders in the conference race, will meet at Lafayette in a game that promises to be bitterly contested. These two eleven always have been strong gridiron rivals. The outcome will determine somewhat of a state championship aspect.

Preparations have been made to receive the biggest crowd that has attended a football game in Lafayette this season because of the keen rivalry between the two universities. Indiana is considered the stronger, for the eleven will be strengthened with the return in the game of Archie French, to his old position at half back. Keever, because of his good showing in the game against Florida, will fill in as a player of the other half. Coach O'Donnell of the Purdue eleven has drilled his players in breaking up forward passes and the stellar plays of Indiana. The team has been considerably weakened by a string of injuries to players. The men are determined, however, to upset Indiana if possible and make amends for the rather poor showing in previous conference starts.

New York, Nov. 24.—When the Army and Navy meet tomorrow at the Polo grounds here it will be the twenty-first football contest between the two branches of Uncle Sam's service schools. Of the twenty contests already decided the army holds the edge by one victory, having captured ten games, the Navy nine, and one has been a tie.

With such men as Oliphant, Gerhardt, Vidal and McEwan making up the strongest part of this year's team, the Army is being generally favored to win. And, in addition to this, the West Pointers put a victory over Washington and Lee, a team which had first place in taking a fall out of the Middle.

The Army-Navy game, aside from its importance in the football world, takes rank as one of the most vivid color displays and the most "peppy" affair of all the eastern conflicts, not excepting the annual clash between Yale and Harvard. The Polo Grounds, where the game will be played, is one of the largest enclosures in the country, but it has been necessary to refuse many late requests for admission as all seats were sold long ago.

The Army and Navy hold the bulk of the tickets with about 15,000 in the hands of the public.

Theatrical men seem to be falling for baseball. Harry Frazee and Hugh Ward bought the Boston Red Sox, and the next week found John T. Price, a Lincoln theatrical manager, buying into the Lincoln Western league club. Perhaps it is a sign that the movies have done more harm to the legitimate show business than they have to baseball.

Christy Mathewson will winter in Cincinnati. Where he will fall is something else again.

The football championship of the Western Conference, generally known as the "Big Nine," will be decided at Columbus tomorrow afternoon when teams representing Ohio State and Northwestern universities meet on Ohio field in their annual game.

Neither Ohio State, the battle member of the conference, nor Northwestern has suffered defeat this season. The winner of the game therefore, will be the undisputed champion of the Big Nine.

The two teams will enter the championship contest nearly evenly matched. Neither appears to have a decided advantage over the other and both, on the eve of the struggle, are reported to be in the pink of condition. One of the best gridiron contests ever staged in the middle west is expected. Ohio football enthusiasts look upon Ohio State as a favorite, although sport writers in the Chicago newspapers have favored Northwestern to win.

Should Northwestern win, Ohio State will have at least a tie for second honors, as it and Minnesota, provided the latter wins from Chicago, would then have suffered defeat in one conference game each this season.

Including tomorrow's contest, Ohio State will have participated in four conference games this season, while Northwestern will have played in five. Ohio State has defeated the following conference teams: Illinois, 7-0; Wisconsin, 14-13; and Indiana, 7-0. Northwestern has secured a record of victories over Chicago, 10-0; Indiana, 7-0; Iowa, 20-13; and Purdue 38-6.

Ohio rooters are pinning their faith in Ohio State's well-balanced and well-organized offense, and in C. W. (Chick) Harley, the young half back whose playing has been one of the sensations of the "Big Nine" this season. Harley has been Ohio State's best ground-gainer and point-getter. He is 19 years old, a sophomore with two more years to play and the youngest man on Ohio State's team. He is former Chicago boy, but now lives in Columbus.

This is Ohio State's fourth year in the conference. In that time Northwestern has played three, as opposed to the Scarlet and Gray eleven and in each meeting has been defeated without being able to cross the goal line of the Wilce-coached team or without having scored a point. In its conference history, Ohio State has confined its football activities to annual struggles with the teams of Illinois, Wisconsin, Indiana, and Northwestern. The Ohio team has not yet met Chicago, Minnesota, Purdue or Iowa.

Seven of the eleven men who will probably start for Ohio State in tomorrow's game are products of Columbus high school football teams. They are the Courineer brothers, Harley, Sedden, Yerges, Turner and Karch. Only two members of the varsity squad will be graduated next year. Next year's squad with valuable additions from the present Freshman eleven, looms up as even stronger than the machine which tomorrow will play Ohio's first conference championship game.

vious games he has accurately shot the ball for gains of twenty and thirty yards. He also is a consistent ground gainer and a deadly tackler. The playing of the light but speedy backfield is Northwestern's hope for victory. Supporters of the Evanston eleven believe that Capt. "Paddy" Driscoll is as good an offensive player as is Harley and that he will gain as much ground in skirting the ends and ripping through the line. They also point to his ability as a punter and drop kicker.

Members of the team are astonishingly young in the college sport. Only two men who have played football three years, the allotted time in the conference, will be in the Northwestern line-up at the start of the game. They are Ulrich at left guard and Zanger at right guard. Smith, the giant center, who scales 261 pounds and is 6 feet 4 1/2 inches high, is playing his second year, although this will be his last as he graduates next spring.

The tackles, Putnam and Bennett, are first year men, as is Brumbach at left end. Norman, the right end, is playing his second year. Brightmire, the dashing little quarterback, never played college football until this season, and the same is true of Ellingwood and Cigrand, the regular half backs. Underhill, a backfield player, will be lost to the team because of graduation.

Kohler, the fullback, has won fame at Northwestern in a single season. He is regarded as a stellar performer in hurling forward passes. In previous games he has accurately shot the ball for gains of twenty and thirty yards. He also is a consistent ground gainer and a deadly tackler.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 24.—Delegates from all Wisconsin cities were here today for the opening session of the annual convention of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association, which lasts two days. Practically every municipality in the state is represented.

The action if the various cities in appointing delegates to the meeting is especially fitting in view of the fact that the organization of the state association eight years ago was the fulfillment of promise made to the various Wisconsin cities which voluntarily raised the funds for sending the first state tuberculosis exhibit to the International Congress on Tuberculosis in Washington, which asked in return that a state campaign against the disease be organized. Since that time the scope of the state association has steadily enlarged until it is now a general public health organization specializing in infant welfare, school health and sanitation, community nursing, and other lines of activity by which the economic cost, and the sorrow caused by preventable disease and death may be cut down and which are closely allied with the campaign against tuberculosis.

The Big Store's Annual
Thanksgiving Linen Sale
RICH LINENS

Is Your Table Linen "Rich" "Smooth"
"Heavy?"

The best dining table, the daintiest meal, may be quite ruined by an unsightly table cloth. Why shouldn't every family use nice linens? They can afford it.

Never think good pure linen is beyond your means. The Big Store has been within your means many years. Our word is yours that we can keep your table covered with the snowiest, neatest linen for less than you pay chasing butterfly bargains. The Big Store linens never cost more—usually cost less.

COME TO THE BIG STORE OF PLENTY.

Gehrke's Home Made Bread

Don't ask mother to bake bread, as well as cook the Thanksgiving dinner. Have her order Gehrke's Home Made Bread. It is made in the same good way that mother bakes and tastes as good.

We can supply you with delicious Home Made Pastries for the Thanksgiving dinner. Order from your grocer, the green wagon or the bakery.
